The Salty Pig Hits the Back Bay

At the publike New American arrival The Salty Pig, located across from the Back Bay train station, the operators of Canary Square and Coda present a midpriced menu that includes 'salty pig' parts in house-cured charcuterie, as well as artisanal 'stinky cheeses,' gourmet sandwiches, salads, wood-grilled pizzas and a well-edited selection of craft beers and wines; the industrial-style setting features chairs made from recycled material, a long reclaimed-wood bar, chalkboard walls adorned with scientific equations (undoubtedly one of them is the formula for bacon), and a patio; P.S. lunch begins July 25.
